

OEPHEBIA

A French Psychic in London - Tarot - Clairvoyant - Clairaudient - Past Lives

Oephebia was born under the sign of Gemini and from early adolescence she showed undeniable psychic abilities. Over the years she has perfected her unique reading style using clairvoyance, clairsentience, clairaudience, tarot, astrology and numerology. She has developed a serious interest towards the recognition and interpretation of symbols through the tarot, dream interpretation, animal symbolism and colours. She also has extensively investigated the paranormal world.

Whilst reading professionally over the last two decades, Oephebia realised she had two other unusual and wonderful abilities. These include past life readings without regressing people, rather using remote viewing. She explains; "It is like I am being transported through time to another dimension and I can see a particular scene from a bygone time and describe it as it unfolds". She is able to tie in a particular past life with the present one. This ability is very sought after particularly when people want to find out if their actual partner is a soul mate or a twin flame or to help people overcome fears and phobias.

Reading jewellery, particularly rings while being worn by their owners, is another talent Oephebia has, an alternative to conventional psychometric practice.

Oephebia featured on Bravo TV in February 2004 on 'Fashanu's Football Challenge' as well as Channel 4 since establishing herself in the UK. Currently she is one of the regular resident psychics on the Psychic TV. She is a Consultant Member of the British Astrological and Psychic Society - the society Russell Grant founded. Oephebia has been vetted by the society in tarot, and therefore she abides with their code of ethics. She is an endorsed reader of the Tarot Association of the British Isles, whose ethics she also follows. When she is not on TV, she is busy with her private practice, where she reads for her clients from celebrities and artists, to people from all walks of life. She is a leading tarot teacher and she is often asked to undertake lectures about symbolism or the psychic world. In addition she organises workshops on the subject on a regular basis. Corporate entertainment, for clients such as British Airways, BT Openworld and HSBC, is also part of Oephebia's work.

Apart from her psychic talents, Oephebia adds a zest of glamour, a pinch of humour and sprinkle of "je ne sais quoi" to the Psychic TV shows. She is a very compassionate reader and her readings are described as uplifting, down to earth and straight to the point. Oephebia passionately believes that we are the master of our own future and a reading, is merely a guidance to help pinpoint what is around the corner.

Oephebia has recently started to design her own deck of cards using animals and traditional symbolism. She pursues her interest in animals by studying psychic animal communication.

*I had a reading from Oephebia last night that was stunning in its pin-point 100% accuracy. From the very beginning, she fired bulls eyes, one after the other.
